Rapper and animal rights activist IFEEL gives animals a voice

It's been said that "Music is what feelings sound like," and that music transcends all borders. IFEEL is a living proof of this. He is an animal rights activist who stands up for abused animals with music as his tool. He writes songs to give animals a voice and to share their stories with the world in a powerful, unique way. His music is empowering and emotional, inspiring and catchy.

"Musical artists have long played an important role in social justice movements, giving voice to the oppressed and making their pain relatable to the masses. IFEEL continues this great tradition by expressing a wide spectrum of animal emotion through hip hop - inspiring listeners to make the world a more compassionate place for all its inhabitants." Gene Baur, President and Co-Founder of Farm Sanctuary (www.farmsanctuary.org)

"I was extremely impressed to hear about IFEEL's efforts to raise awareness with his music on how to treat animals. I would like to express my thanks for his extraordinary efforts." Marianne Thieme, Party for the Animals (www.partyfortheanimals.nl)

"Hip hop has always been an agent of change, a way to express dissatisfaction with current social injustice. I do that for the abused animals. My music inspires listeners to take a whole different view at the animal kingdom. Getting their message out through music and videos is my mission." IFEEL
